ITEM 11

Report of the Monitoring Officer

Anti-Social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014

SUMMARY

- 1.1 The Anti-Social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014 (the Act) received Royal Assent on 13 March 2014. The Act introduces significant changes to the way local authorities, police and other agencies respond to anti-social behaviour (ASB).
- 1.2 The provisions in the Act consolidate 19 existing anti-social behaviour powers into six more flexible powers. Two new measures, the community trigger and community remedy, have been introduced to help focus the response to such behaviour on the needs of victims. As of 23 March 2015 all powers under the Act are now in force. Appendix 2contains a diagram showing the replacement powers introduced by the Act.
- 1.3 To enable the Council continue to have a whole range of tools available to it for dealing with ASB within the City, the report recommends to resolve that the new ASB new powers are implemented by the Council by way of appropriate amendments to the Council's Scheme of Delegation and officer authorisations.
- 1.4 To Act also enables the Council to secure civil injunctions as a standalone application within the County Court and the Youth Court and to secure criminal behaviour orders following a conviction in the criminal courts.

RECOMMENDATION

IMPLICATIONS

Financial and Value for Money

- 1.1 The will implement the provisions of the Act within existing resources. However, there may be financial implications and we will keep this under review. Potential costs include:
  - staff costs for enforcement;
  - legal costs for undertaking more anti-social behaviour related action; and
  - staff training costs.
- 1.2 The relevant service areas will bring a further report to Full Council should these resource implications require additional financial provision.

Legal

- 2.1 The Act provides the Council with new provisions and powers for dealing with antisocial behaviour. These are explained in the report. The recommendations will ensure that Council officers are properly authorised to exercise the available powers.
- Use of the powers contained in the Act may result in additional legal action by the Council. For example, the Council will become the prosecuting authority for any breaches of public space protection orders and community protection notices.

Personnel

- 3.1 Enforcement of the new powers will have implications for frontline staff. There may also be an impact on the Council's Legal Services team if more anti-social behaviour related action is taken. These impacts cannot be assessed accurately at this time and, as referred to in the financial implications section, will be discussed in a further report to the Full Council if required.
- 3.2 The Council has an Aggression and Violence Policy and Procedure and staff will be encouraged to report any issues so that potential remedial action can be taken.

IT

4.1 Financial systems will need to be updated to receive payment of fines in respect of the Community Protection Notices.

Equalities Impact

5.1 Anti-social behaviour has a devastating effect on people, particularly those with
